To the Minnesota Dental Association, Northwest Dentistry and its venerable editor, Dr. Walter Hyde, our every good wish for continued success and ever growing service to dentistry and the people we serve.—E. Ebert.

Let's Help Ourselves: Let's Stay Free

Some time ago the writer went into great detail as to the need for financial support for dental education. At that time a ripple of interest was created but nothing in keeping with the need. Since then an attempt was made to gather further information on agencies which could lend help but they are very few and limited in scope.

Dental education was given a real lift when the President signed into law the Dental Research Bill of some $6,000,000, part of which will be allocated to dental schools for research which will certainly be of great benefit. However, as welcome and important as these funds are, they do have limitations and are dependent on the willingness of Congress to continue the grant. We are indeed most grateful for these funds for they make possible the research necessary to the further progress of dentistry and indirectly aid in teaching and operating costs. In spite of this tremendous help the great need of education in general, and dental education in particular, is for sufficient funds to pay faculty salaries adequate to hold qualified men and to encourage outstanding young men and women to enter the teaching profession. Funds are also needed to make up the differential between tuition paid and the actual cost of providing that education and also to increase endowments. The writer is in the main appealing for aid for private education needs as against tax supported education. There is no quarrel with state supported education except for the inherent dangers which lie in education dependent on the whims of the politico and the great danger of state control.

It is a cause for real concern to read of this college or that college closing after 75 or 100 years or more of glorious service—closed because of insufficient funds or inability to hold its faculty. These colleges and educational institutions have played a tremendous part in the growth and development of what we like to call the "Free Enterprise System" and the America we know. The professions—medicine, dentistry, law—and free and unfettered education are the last bulwarks against the inroads of socialism.

In the public press there appears from time to time the story of millions being given to education and to hospitals for research, by foundations such as Ford or Carnegie and even by corporations, but nowhere have we seen a gift to dental education. Recently there came to the editor's desk a story of one of our large pharmaceutical houses giving 1,000,000 dollars to medical, veterinary and other research, but there was no mention of dentistry. There is an educational program set up by industry and foundations, such as Ford, Westinghouse, General Motors and others, which awards 4-year scholarships to some 1,000 young people who compete against the top ten per cent of all high school graduates by a series of examinations and eliminations until they are the finalists. The award not only provides tuition and room and board plus a little extra, but also provides an equal sum to aid in the support of the college. Were there any scholarships for dentistry? No; and yet what good is an education if the graduate is not provided with the proper health service? Good health is essential to efficient and effective work. Industry should be concerned about adequate health services as well as properly trained technicians. Only by providing aid to dentistry, as well as medicine, can the increased need for health services be met.

In an address before representatives of 70 liberal arts and privately endowed colleges, Dr. William Stevens, President of Oberlin College, pointed out the need for students with perspective and prepared for a life of intellectual growth and full measure of successful living. He also pointed out that the hope of the free enterprise system lay in a free and unfettered education.

In an address before a conference sponsored by the National Fund for Medical Education, Dr. George Berry, Head of the Harvard Medical School, said that health belongs to everyone even though medical men may captain the team. To this we could well add the other captain—dentistry. Since 1951 this Fund has contributed some $12,665,580 to medical schools through moneys from industry, business and foundations.

Where is the foundation or fund for dental education? If we are to maintain our rightful place in the health service along with medicine, we too must have help. May the writer again suggest that the Council on Dental Education and the Association of Dental Schools set the wheels in motion which would assure dental education its rightful share of educational funds. In a previous discussion of this problem it was suggested that you and I to start the ball rolling give a part of that which our profession has given each of us. Five dollars a month for a year was proposed as an indication of our good faith and willingness to see that our glorious profession maintain its rightful place in the healing arts profession. Only then can we pass on to those who follow the kind of heritage which was given to us and can you and I help America remain strong and free.

North Suburban

Act now or forever hold your peace. Our trip to Eli Lilly in Indianapolis on May 22, 23 and 24 is almost complete. They can only handle 150 people at one time. First come, first served. Make your checks payable to the North Suburban Branch of the Chicago Dental Society for $10.89 per person and mail to Ed Sullivan. From all reports this is an excellent trip. . . . The Nominating Committee selected the following candidates for the year 1957-1958: President, Edward J. Sullivan; President-Elect, George L. Carey; Vice-President, Charles H. Shaner; Secretary, Charles L. McArthur; Treasurer, I. Milton Dawson; Directors, Herman P. Kelder, Waldo O. Urban, and Francis M. Yager. These will be voted upon at the April meeting. . . . George Carey is planning a two weeks' vacation with his family at Pompano Beach, Florida. . . . Chuck Mercier has returned from a vacation down at Bloomington, Ill., visiting his father who is recovering from a recent illness. . . . Our President, Francis Yager left the first part of March for Ft. Lauderdale where he plans to do some fishing. . . . Chuck and Mrs. McArthur are planning to go to Cuba. On their return will meet their family and spend some time in Hollywood, Florida. . . . Mike Pauly has been entertaining the crowds this past winter at the Hubbard Woods Skating Rink with his daring feats of figure skating. . . . Bill Lazear has been elected a Director of Winnetka Rotary Club. . . . Ronald Rothenberg has opened an office for practice of pedodontia in Skokie. . . . George Krueger was elected to American Denture Society during the Midwinter Meeting. . . . Randy Wescott has returned to Florida for a refresher course on his suntan. . . . Don't forget your Lilly reservations.—Charles H. Shaner, Assistant to the Assistant.

South Suburban

Surprise! This time I will personally make sure that this column is mailed on time. . . . For the benefit of those not present at our March meeting, an election of officers was held and the following slate of men will be our next officers: President, Henry Freitag; Vice-President, Emanuel Katz; Secretary, Carl Kinell; Treasurer, Leonard Holt; elected also for the Board of Directors for a three-year term, Clarence Simon. . . . Clarence (Smiley) Simon is really in an election mood. He was just elected to membership to the Adventurer's Club and at the time I spoke to him, it was hard to say at which he was most pleased. Will hear more about Smiley at a later date. . . . At the present time, the men of our group in Florida are O. A. Taylor Bell basking in the sunshine at St. Petersburg, Clarence Folkers is going back to bring his family home after a long hard winter. Leonard Holt firmly set at his second home away from home in Winter Haven and Lloyd Bettenhausen awaiting the return of his wife from Canada so that they might make their departure for the Southland. . . . Mike Hughes and Neil Kingston are sending in for their reservations for the State meeting in May. Neil is especially interested in going so that while there he can visit his son who is attending nearby Bradley U. The old Kingston trait is asserting itself. Neil reports that his son elected to a fraternity was only a member for two days before he was appointed assistant treasurer. . . . We are awaiting an open house celebration at the new domicile of the Herb Rosens. . . . Bill Seidel is really going modern in remodeling both his office and reception room. . . . Now, getting back to Simon, Smiley has promised to send me a hindquarter of one of those Javelinos (wild pig to you all) that he shot while on his recent hunting trip to Tucson, Ari-

For our April meeting we are very proud to have as our speaker Joe Restarski who will cover the topic of endodontia as it can be handled in the average office. . . . I believe that all of you were aware that our president was recently confined to the hospital. Just what the exact ailment was, no one is quite sure. To quote Charley Cosgrove, "It definitely was not a heart attack." To that I am sure we will all echo—Thank Goodness and Amen! That's all for now. See you all in April.—H. C. ## Northwest Side

Dr. S. Jay Welborn was the speaker at the March 5th meeting at Stella's Restaurant. His subject was "Oral Rehabilitation." The highlights of his talk pertained to the maintenance of original vertical dimension, eradication of pyorrhea pockets, splinting of teeth for balanced occlusion and periodic x-ray examinations. . . . The Nominating Committee chairman, Folmer Nymark, presented the following slate of officers for the new year: President-elect, Ben Gillmeister; Vice-President, Alfred Altern; Secretary, Thad Webley; Treasurer, Ted Serr; Directors, Thad Czeslawski, Ray Rux and Lee Schwartz. . . . Barney Pawlowski spent a week in Chickasha, Oklahoma, visiting his daughter and three granddaughters. . . . Glenn Cartwright is studying at the University of Michigan and attending classes on National Defense. . . . The best thing that could have happened to the Northwest Branch takes place on May 8. That evening the Branch will host the ladies and install its new officers at the Venetian Room of Allgauer's Fireside Restaurant in Lincolnwood. Dancing will follow the dinner. Ease the work of Chairman, Stanley Brzezinski and call him on National 2-4950 for reservations. . . . A six-day contract bridge tournament at the Palmer House recently closed with the crowning of eleven champions in three separate competitions. In the "limited team" competition, the winners were Dr. and Mrs. Ben P. Davidson. Congratulations! . . . Helen and Folmer Nymark entertained the nominating committee at their residence on Thursday, March 7. Our gracious hostess prepared a gratifying lunch and our host dispensed "liquid refreshments" generously. . . . Gerson M. Gould is roaming about like a lost lamb these days because his wife, Molly, took off for London, Ontario, Canada, to visit their daughter, Gloria, and their grandchild, Baby Mark. . . . Bob Placek is on the move again, arranging a Caribbean tour to follow the A.D.A. meeting in Miami. . . . Sorry to hear about the recent illness of Fred Fratzke. Hurry up and get well fast, Fred! Report your rapid recuperating powers at the April meeting. . . . Casimer and Lillian Rogalski were the victims of a moronic prankster not too long ago. Nothing serious materialized from the threatening phone calls because the local police took over and eased the minds of our two frightened friends. — Your Branch Correspondent, John M. Gates.

North Side

The Glickman meeting on Periodontia was a huge success—172 were present at the all-day meeting. This proves our contention that given a worthwhile meeting, the men will turn out in number. These all-day meetings give the men a chance to completely cover the subject, rather than the short 1½-hour limited attendance or evening meeting. Our next big meeting will be the Workshop, held in conjunction with the regular May monthly meeting. This will be a 2-day seminar led by Drs. Jack Alloy and Maxwell Fogel, Professors of Orthodontia and Periodontia, respectively, of the Postgraduate School of Temple Union Dental School. The topic: "Adult Orthodontic Procedures in the Treatment of Periodontal Diseases." This seminar will be geared to the general practitioner with plenty of "take have a misconception about hi-speed. They think it merely makes a machine out of the operator with the end result more production. On the contrary, it makes for more relaxation on both the patient and dentist, having streamlined operative procedures with no waste motion. Worth thinking about. It is with regret that we learned of the deaths of Dr. Leo G. Simonek and Dr. William Lapka's father. To their families, the branch extends its sincere sympathy. . . . By the time this column is in print, March meetings of the Branch and the Far West Study Club will be past history, so prepare for the April features. The West Suburban Branch we reported above. The Far West Study Club will hold the April meeting at Louis' Restaurant and will have Dr. Norman Olson on "Management of the Child Patient." . . . Les Butler is back on the job, overcoming his difficulties by working. . . . Send us some news.—Sylvester W. Cotter, Branch Correspondent.

Englewood

When everyone tends to his own business, news is scarce! . . . A well filled room and very attentive audience are the necessary ingredients for a successful meeting; and such it was in March. For the necessary spice, add an excellent presentation on "Immediate Dentures," as presented by Carl Gieler in his usual zestful manner—with the aid of crutches to keep him upright. Carl was the victim of an unfortunate skiing accident and now believes he should put all his efforts to straightening out skidding dentures. His advice to beginners is "learn how to ski before you put on skis"—make mine whiskey. Thanks to Mrs. Gieler for the chauffeuring. . . . Are you getting tired of working evenings? Here's a good excuse to take off from the office on April 9th. Come out to Nielsen's Restaurant and hear Prof. Frank Wentz lecture on "Stress in Tension and Disease"—additional stress will develop during the election of officers that evening. . . . His record of service and accomplishment is a challenge to future presidents. The Pieyed Piper, Ro Waska, was scheduled to write this column so I hiked over to see him a couple of days ago. I found him to still be a reclining figure with his writing hand temporarily out of commission. But his spirits are great.
